This book, "Incantations" and Other Stories, is a collection of 8 short stories, written by Anjana Appachana. Each of the 8 short stories is too good. Although the author has a feminist agenda, you will never feel that she is advocating for it. As you read each story, you will automatically conclude in the line, in which she wants us to.

Incantations And Other Stories
This book of short stories is absolutely excellent. The main theme is the compromises that we make to continue to live in within society's standards. They are everyday scenarios taking place in India or Canada. There is a strong feminist slant in this collection, which is definitely refreshing from the other more traditional stories that I've read.

Incantations and Other Stories by Anjana Appachana
This first collection of fiction by Anjana Appachana provides stories that are beautifully written, the characters in them carefully and respectfully drawn. All the stories are set in India, but the people in them seem somehow displaced within their own society—a society in transition but a transition that does not come fast enough to help them.
